Chapter 1: What is a Worldview?

A worldview is like a lens through which we see and interpret events in the world

Lesson Summary

A worldview is like a pair of glasses that shapes how we interpret and make sense of the world around us. Everyone has a worldview influenced by their experiences, knowledge, and trusted influences, which in turn affect the decisions we make and how we react to life's challenges. As we grow, several factors contribute to shaping our worldview: family, education, media, culture, and even online content. These influences can either strengthen or challenge our core beliefs, especially during formative years. This is why developing a Biblical worldview is essential for Christians. A Biblical worldview offers a solid foundation rooted in God's unchanging truth, providing clarity, direction, and purpose amidst life's uncertainties.

The Bible serves as the cornerstone of a Biblical worldview, offering timeless guidance that has helped believers navigate the complexities of life for over 2,000 years. By relying on Scripture, Christians can make wise decisions, discern truth from falsehood, and align their lives with God's purpose.

Key Takeaways:

1. Worldview Definition: A worldview is the lens through which we interpret life.
2. Influences on Worldview: Family, school, media, culture, and personal experiences play a significant role.
3. The Importance of a Biblical Worldview: It grounds Christians in truth, helping them navigate challenges and live with purpose.
4. Practical Steps: Prayer, Bible study, and fellowship with other believers are crucial for maintaining a Biblical worldview.

By intentionally building your worldview on the reliable truths of Scripture, you can better understand the world, make sound decisions, and live a life that honours God.

CHAPTER 3: The Identity Crisis – Who is God and Who am I?

Lesson Summary

1. God is the Creator

- God created the universe, the earth, and all living things. He sustains life through the natural laws He established.
- Our understanding of God is progressive. Like children growing in knowledge, we gain deeper understanding over time, but we will never fully comprehend God's greatness.
- Scientific discoveries expand our knowledge but remind us that we do not know everything. For example, discoveries about atoms, molecules, and the universe are constantly evolving.

Who can see God or probe the limits of the Almighty?

2. Characteristics of God

- God's ways and thoughts are far higher than ours (Isaiah 55:8-9). He reveals only what we need to understand for our lives.
- Humans are like clay shaped by God, the potter, with specific purposes (Romans 9:20-21).
- The Bible teaches us that God created humans in His image, giving us inherent value and dignity (Genesis 1:26-27).

3. Why Can't We Fully See or Understand God?

- God is Spirit (John 4:24) and infinite, beyond the limits of our physical senses and understanding.
- Like radio waves we cannot see, God's presence is real but not always visible.
- God is infinite. Just as a grasshopper cannot appreciate a symphony, we cannot fully comprehend God except for what He has revealed to us.
- God reveals Himself through creation, the Bible, the Holy Spirit, and through His Son, Jesus Christ.

4. Our Role in God's Creation

- Humans are created in God's image, with value and purpose (Genesis 1:27).
- We are entrusted with stewardship of the earth, called to care for the environment and its creatures (Genesis 2:15).
- Each of us has unique talents and gifts to fulfill God's purposes, bringing glory to Him (Ephesians 2:10).

5. How does Knowing God's Characteristics Shape Our Worldview

- Understanding God's greatness and purpose helps us view ourselves and the world from a Biblical perspective.
- Reflecting on our strengths and passions can help us discover the roles God has created for us to fulfill His plan.

Model Answers to the Student Workbook

Section 1 – Activities

Activity 1: Technology Reflection

Ethical and Responsible Online Behaviour	Practical Applications
Guarding your words and actions online	Ask yourself before you post anything: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Is it true? • is it kind, necessary? • Is it helpful, informative, or just to show how clever you are?
Protecting Personal and other's Privacy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Be careful about sharing personal details online, such as location, identity, contact information, family details • These details can be lost or sold to scammers • Ask for permission if there is a good reason you want to share online
Avoid Harmful Content and Temptations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do not share content that is inappropriate, violent, hateful, or offensive • Do not share content that violates other peoples' privacy • Stay away from addictive behaviours, such as compulsive scrolling, gaming or overuse of social media, which can detract you from your spiritual, emotional, and mental well-being
Discernment in Sharing and Consuming Content	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Fact-check before sharing news, memes, or stories to avoid spreading fake news • Critically evaluate the values, worldviews, and intentions behind online content – Is it in line with God's Word? What message does it convey? • Learn to identify manipulative tactics in advertising, click baiting, or harmful ideologies embedded in media trends

Ethical and Responsible Online Behaviour	Practical Applications
Demonstrate Accountability and Transparency	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Share your online activities with a trusted mentor, parent, or accountability partner • Be open to correction if someone points out unkind or inappropriate behaviour online • Regularly evaluate your online activities and ask yourself, and in prayer, whether they reflect what the Bible teaches about good behaviour.

Activity 2: Warning Signs in the Online Universe

Topic	Warning Signs	Action Steps
Time wasting and excessive screen time	Neglecting school work, physical exercise, socialising, Bible reading time and family time due to excessive screen time.	Ask the students for their own solution:
Engaging with Harmful Content	Watching or sharing content that promotes immoral values, hate or violence. Feeling the need to hide your online activities from others out of guilt.	Commit to accountability with trusted friend
Spreading misinformation and fake news	Enjoy sharing sensational and controversial headlines without verifying sources. Enjoy the attention it draws not only to the news, but to ourselves.	Commit to accountability and fact-checking before posting. Also ask the same questions – is it true, is it kind, useful, necessary or just to boost our own ego.
Cyber-bullying and Online conflicts	Receiving or sending unkind, mocking, or hostile messages. Feeling drawn into escalating arguments online.	Avoid responding to negativity, or hostile messages. Block or report abusive users and seek support if needed.
Online Predators, Gaslighting, and Grooming	Be careful of suspicious messages especially in big chat groups, gaming chat groups and other open groups where you do not know the people personally. Receiving suspicious private message from strangers asking for personal details. Strangers or people pretending to be someone else trying to build a relationship with you in a suspicious way. Being pressured into secrecy or unusual behaviour.	Never share personal information or meet online contacts without parental knowledge. A beautiful or handsome face on the internet, could really be a wicked criminal. Block contacts and report any suspicious behaviour to parents, trusted friends, or to the authorities.

Topic	Warning Signs	Action Steps
Online Scams, Phishing and Privacy Concerns	Emails or messages promising big and unrealistic rewards. These messages often ask for urgent action. Sometimes the scammers can be smart and willing to build a relationship with the victim, lulling the victim and develop a false trust until they are ready to strike. Links from unknown senders or websites requesting you to give personal information. Sometimes just a message from an unknown website asking you to press a button, which unknown to you, gives them access to your personal details.	Verify sources before clicking links or sharing information. Use strong passwords. Ensure you have 2-step authentication authorization with your banks or financial institutions. Share only necessary and appropriate information with websites that are familiar to you. Even when using a banking website – save the link in your favourites and use that link when you want to access the bank. Avoid links from emails which purport to link your bank by clicking a link which they provide.
Addiction to Validation and Social Approval	Constantly checking for notifications or validation and feeling anxious or sad when posts do not receive favourable responses.	Take regular breaks from social media. If you do post, or make comments, make positive posts with a clear conscience that you are trying to help. If such comments or posts do not receive positive feedback, it is their loss, not yours and you do not have to feel sad about it. The Biblical view is that we should be helpful, without expecting recognition or rewards. Likewise, your post or comment was made with an intent to be helpful and you do not seek recognition.
